

ORDER FORM – MEDALLIONS & WAR BARS

Details of the Medallions

The face of the Medallion shows Able Seaman W. Williams Royal Australian Naval Reserve from Melbourne and Captain Dr B. Pockley MID Australian Army Medical Corps from Sydney. On Friday 11 September 1914, they became first Australian casualties of WWI, having been wounded in action and succumbing to their injuries later that day. Both were members of the AUSTRALIAN NAVAL & MILITARY EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (ANMEF). The reverse side of the Medallions records their details and date of death. There is a space for the purchaser to engrave messages for posterity. More information on the ANMEF can be found on the Australian War Memorial website or by conducting a Google search

The Medallions are presented in a clear plastic pouch with a neck ribbon so that the Medallion can be worn on appropriate occasions. The round Medallions are 50mm diameter with similar dimensions for the In Memory Medallion.
